Dear Comrades:

Time passes so quickly in the lives of all men: and so for the Sergeants of this Company for 1969-70 comes the end of our service.

We have been very happy in our capacities with and to and for the Company and are extremely proud of the honor bestowed upon us by our Comrades in electing us as your Sergeants.

We are grateful for the invaluable assistance we received from our Comrades which was the real reason for a happy and successful year.

Thanks again for everything and the same good luck to our successors.

THE CENTURY BOX

On the second Monday of June in each year, the Military Museum and Library Committee of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company is required to report on the location and condition of the Century Box as part of its annual report to the Company.

The purpose of this article is to acquaint the members of the Company as to what this Century Box is. The following information is extracted from the appropriate minutes of our Company records:

"A special meeting of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company was held at the armory in Faneuil Hall on the evening of December 3, 1881, Capt. Cundy presiding. The meeting was held for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee on the boxes for 1930 and 1980, and Col. Edward Wyman read the report as follows: — Mr. Commander, — Your Committee, appointed in September, 1880, to collect material to be enclosed in boxes to be transmitted to our successors of 1930 and 1980, respectfully submit the following: Twenty-eight papers have been arranged for. A great amount of labor has been expended in the production of these papers. We may venture the assertion that one paper required not less than three weeks of uninterrupted work. Another contains thirty-two photographs of public buildings, with a full description of their proportions, uses, and locations and a general essay on the present style of architecture.

All the papers are of great interest and contain information that would be very instructive to the readers of the present time, but your committee decides that, as these papers are intended for our successors and not for ourselves, that they should be the first to read the manuscripts. Your committee, therefore, requested the writers that they would not retain copies. Most of the papers have been read by the committee, but some of them even the eyes of the committee have not reached, though they must confess that their curiosity is not a little excited over an envelope, bearing the broad seal of the Commonwealth, containing a poem. The various papers number nearly nine hundred pages.

The sealing of the Century Box took place in Faneuil Hall December 22, 1881, in the presence of more than one thousand persons. Faneuil Hall was handsomely decorated with bunting and flags. The colors of the Company were displayed upon the platform; the front of the gallery was covered with red and white horizontal stripes, and the ceiling was half hidden by party-colored streamers.

The following papers were prepared and deposited in the box: —

1. Poem, by his Excellency Governor John D. Long (1881).
2. "The Relation of Government to Education in the United States," President Charles W. Eliot, Harvard University.
3. "The Religious Condition of Boston," Rev. Edward Everett Hale, chaplain.
4. "Recollections of Boston," Hon. Josiah Quincy (1823).
5. "Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, Past and Present," Major Ben. Perley Poore (1848).
6. "Manners and Customs," Rev. Edward A. Horton, chaplain.
7. "Art in Boston," Charles C. Perkins.
8. "Architecture," Henry Walter Hartwell.
9. "Army of the United States," Brevet Brig.-Gen. Alanson Merwin Randol.
10. "Militia of Massachusetts," Adjt.-Gen. Abraham Hun Berry.
11. "Boston Fire Department, Past and Present," Hon. John E. Fitzgerald.
12. "Railroads and Railroad Interests," Capt. Albert A. Folsom (1867).
13. "Progress of New England Agriculture," Hon. Marshall Pinkney Wilder (1828).
14. "Bar, Law, and Lawyers," Col. Seth James Thomas (1830).
15. "Medicine and Surgery," Morrill Wyman, M.D.
16. "Amusements," Charles H. Pattee.
17. "Secret Societies," Capt. John Lindsay Stevenson (1863).
18. "Finance, War Debt, and Stocks," Henry P. Kidder.
19. "Commerce and Navigation," Capt. Robert Bennett Forbes.
20. "Commerce, Ships, and Navigation," Hon. Alanson Wilder Beard.
21. "Rise and Growth of the Clothing Business," Isaac Fenno.
22. "Sketch of Rise and Progress of the Manufacture of Wool," George William Bond.
23. "Shoe and Leather Business," Col. Augustus P. Martin (1873).
24. "Fisheries and Fishing Interests," William A. Wilcox.
25. "Paper and Paper Making," his Honor Byron Weston.
26. Letter from Commander in 1880, Major Charles W. Stevens (1867), to Commander in 1980.
27. "Report of the Committee on Box for 1980," Col. Edward Wyman (1862), chairman.

The address and the instructions for the opening of the box are engraved upon the top, and are as follows: —

TO THE COMMANDER of the
ANCIENT AND HONORABLE ARTILLERY COMPANY OF MASSACHUSETTS for 1980-1981.

The contents of this box have been collected in accordance with a vote of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, passed September 13, 1880.

SEALED IN FANEUIL HALL, BOSTON,
December Twenty-Second, 1881.
Not to be opened until September Seventeenth, 1980.

COMMITTEE:

Colonel Edward Wyman (1862).
Major Charles Woodbury Stevens (1867).
Captain John Lindsay Stevenson (1863).
Captain Albert Alonzo Folsom (1867).
Lieutenant George Henry Allen (1857).
Commander 1881-1882, Captain William Henry Cundy (1867).

This box is of heavy copper, tinned outside and in, and was made by Samuel Dexter Hicks and by him presented to the Company. The box of 1930 is of sufficient size to receive the box of 1980, and such other matter as may be inserted for those who will represent the Company fifty years hence, and a letter from the committee requesting that the box for 1980 shall be properly cared for and sent forward unopened. Mr. Hicks sealed the box in front of the platform and in the presence of the audience."
